environment of Perth and Kinross.*

Welcome to Perth and Kinross Archaeology Year

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to Perth and Kinross Archaeology Year 2017! Vibrant, engaging and informative, PKAY17 promises to be an exciting celebration of our past through a programme of historically themed special events, excavations, guided walks, archaeological skills workshops, talks, and exhibitions that showcase the outstanding historic environment of Perth and Kinross. Beginning as Archaeology Week in 2003, Perth and Kinross Heritage Trust has annually delivered Archaeology Month in June. Now, with 2017 officially declared the Scottish Year of History, Heritage and Archaeology, we have decided to rise to this exciting cultural heritage occasion with an extra special programme of not just one event-packed month but seven!

The programme will be officially launched by singer/songwriter and PKHT patron Dougie McLean at a special twilight ceremony on the 22nd April. The launch is not to be missed and will be an exciting event beginning with a torch-lit procession through the atmospherically lit woodland of Moncreiffe Hill. Up on the hillfort of Moredun top, the sound of a prehistoric horn will echo once more across the ramparts and a prehistoric world will be reconstructed through immersive hilltop virtual reality. The wider events programme offers new guided walks to some of the county's lesser-explored archaeological sites as well as reviving old favourites such as tours of the Roman Gask Ridge sites and trips to many of the hillforts that crown Perthshire's hilltops. There will be lots of opportunities to get your hands dirty and experience the past at the trowel's edge with five excavations to sign-up and take part in. Navigation courses using archaeological sites, workshops and demonstrations in archaeological survey techniques, a Medieval Fair in Perth city centre will be taking place, and then there are the Scottish Crannog Centre's 20th anniversary celebration events to look forward to. Doors Open Days is not to be forgotten and will return in September, this time across three consecutive weekends instead of one. The events on offer are delivered by a suite of partner organisations and individuals, and in particular it is encouraging to see strong community involvement from local societies participating and sharing their passion for the past with others.

PKAY17 offers residents and visitors a variety of ways to interact with the historic environment of Perth and Kinross. You don't need to have any knowledge of history or archaeology to be able to enjoy the events on offer; an inquisitive mind and a thirst for discovery is all we recommend. A digital version of this programme, online calendar and booking system can be found on the Perth and Kinross Heritage Trust website www.pkht.org.uk/news-events/archaeology-year. You can also 'Like us' on Facebook or 'Follow us' on Twitter (@PKHeritageTrust, #PKAY17) for the latest updates and event news.

There are lots of ways to explore Perthshire's past in 2017 so get stuck in and discover!

About Year of History, Heritage and Archaeology!

The 2017 Year of History, Heritage and Archaeology is a celebration of Scotland's people, distinct culture and traditions, historic landscapes, attractions, icons, as well as hidden gems and amazing stories.

From World Heritage Sites to ancient monuments, listed buildings to historic battlefields, cultural traditions to myths, stories and legends, 2017 is the year to explore Scotland's fascinating past. Discover how this past has shaped the thriving Scotland we know today and its future, with its proud and welcoming spirit.

Hear tales of legendary kings and queens, Jacobite battles, stories handed down from one generation to the next, all set against Scotland's unique panoramic landscapes and enriching culture.

From the Scottish Borders to Shetland, and from Fife to the Isle of Skye - every area of Scotland has its own story to share. Perth and Kinross Archaeology Year offers a range of exciting events, attractions and activities in 2017 as part of the Year of History, Heritage and Archaeology. Relive Scotland's past to the present day and come make history with us!

Cateran's Common Wealth in Archaeology Year

Cateran's Common Wealth is an exciting multi-year programme of arts, crafts, culture and heritage centred around the Cateran Trail in Eastern Perthshire. Developed by local people and organisations, the project offers a range of activities and events aimed at celebrating and sustaining the common wealth – the things that belong to all of us – of this vibrant part of Perth and Kinross.

In Archaeology Year, there is a wealth of walks, talks and exhibitions to enjoy. Join archaeologists from Perth and Kinross Heritage Trust on five guided walks that explore the diverse archaeological landscape and remains in and around the Cateran Trail. From the summit of the well defended fort atop Barry Hill, to well preserved post-medieval fermtouns such as Easter Bleaton; from treks through prehistoric settlement landscapes like Pitcarmick, to marches along Major Caulfeild's military road, the guided walks offer something for all tastes and abilities. The Glenshee Archaeology Project will also be returning to Lair for its final season of excavations on the Pictish longhouses and will feature highly in a guided walk taking in archaeological sites of multiple periods in this magical part of the 'Fairy Glen'. You can find out more about the Cateran's Common Wealth www.commonculture.org.uk.

Events Calendar: April-October 2017

This programme contains: Special Events; Excavations; Guided Walks; Skills Workshops; Illustrated Talks; and Exhibitions

Please read the following prior to booking and / or attending events:

- Perth and Kinross Heritage Trust co-ordinates the programme and runs some events, while other events are run by partner organisations.
- Booking is essential for many events – to guarantee a place, book early as places are limited and secured on a first-come, first-served basis.
- Appropriate footwear and clothing should be worn for all outdoor activities. Walks are graded for ease – note moderate/hard walks will require waterproofs, warm clothing, stout footwear, snack rations and drinking water. For day-long events, please bring a packed lunch.
- Children under the age of 16 must be accompanied by an adult (except for events organised specifically for kids).
- Many walks will pass through farm land, as a result no dogs are permitted on walks unless otherwise stated. The event organiser will advise on what to bring when booking.

OUR AIM AND PURPOSE:

Conserving and promoting archaeology and architectural heritage, for the benefit of residents, visitors and future generations.

We are dedicated to high-quality conservation and education projects that provide real social, educational and economic benefit, including the annual Archaeology Month events attended by thousands each year.

WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT TO CONTINUE THIS WORK!

Give a donation...

This can be a one-off sum or regular gift of a few pounds per month/year. We operate a gift aid scheme that enables us to claim back the tax at no extra cost (eg. for every £1 donated we will be able to get an extra 28p from the government, giving a total donation of £1.28).

Volunteer...

You can support us by providing practical help on our projects: contact the Trust to sign up to our volunteer database to get the latest information on what's going on....

Leave a legacy...

A gift to charity in your will is an ideal way to support the work of a local organisation that you care about. Charitable legacies are paid before tax is deducted, reducing the total amount of inheritance tax due from your estate.

Sponsor us....

All of our projects have social and educational benefit and are ideally suited to sponsorship by individuals or organisations who want to 'give something back'.
